Welcome to EASTBOURNE YOUTH RADIO 2018

As Chair of the Eastbourne Education Business Partnership it gives me great pleasure in welcoming you to Eastbourne Youth Radio (EYR) 2018.

There are few projects which bring together so many schools, students, teachers and employers in such an energising experience of 3 days of live radio broadcasting from the studios of our partner East Sussex College – Eastbourne. Furthermore, EYR provides the whole Eastbourne community with a local project that they can feel a part of, with parents, grandparents and friends all tuning in to 87.7FM or via www.eyr.org.uk to hear the programmes and contributions from their family and their schools.

EYR is also notable for its longevity and sustainability, and this year we celebrate the 18th year of the event, a truly remarkable achievement and testament to its value and popularity, and its ongoing relevance to the curriculum and personal development of students. This year, around 1,200 individual students will be involved, representing schools and colleges across the area, supported by over 40 businesses, a really wonderful example of the collaboration between education and commerce.

And a note for your calendars and diaries: The BIG Futures Show, the largest employability and skills event in the area, and another project of the Education Business Partnership, returns 30th April 2019 for the 4th year.

Dr Steven Goss-Turner

Chair, Eastbourne Education Business Partnership

ON AIR!

Eastbourne Youth Radio (EYR) returns to the airwaves for the 18th year on 87.7FM and online at www.eyr.org.uk. Broadcast from studios at East Sussex College – Eastbourne from Wednesday 14th to Friday 16th November, EYR sees students from local schools and other organizations, present over 50 hours of programmes. The students, who range in age from 5-19, present their radio shows covering a wide range of topics – much of it live. This year's broadcast coincides with Anti-Bullying Week, Global Entrepreneurship Week, UK Parliament Week and finally, BBC Children in Need. EYR will be covering all of these during the packed 3-day schedule.

Working with Eastbourne's Youth and Community Safety Partnerships, EYR will be helping to raise awareness of Anti-Bullying Week and this year's theme, 'Choose Respect'. Students will also be looking at the growing problem of 'County Lines and Cuckooing' where young people are being cajoled into selling drugs by dealers from outside the local area. Stephen Lloyd MP will be hosting a new programme, 'MP's Question Time', as part of UK Parliament Week to canvass the voice of Eastbourne's youth.

EYR is only made possible by the considerable support and involvement of the many businesses and other organisations that support this annual project. NHS Health Education England (Kent, Surrey & Sussex) is key sponsor and featured on EYR's launch program. The organisation works to improve the quality of healthcare through education, training and staff development. As sponsor of EYR, they are well placed to speak to young people on a range of mental health issues in association with Sussex Partnership NHS Foundation Trust, and to outline the routes into mental health nursing.

EYR is delighted to welcome Southern Water to the studios on all three days to talk about the significant problems caused by the 'Unflushables' that we put down the drains. An average drain is just 10cm in diameter. Listeners will be reminded to only flush the three 'Ps' – pee, poo and paper! Remember, 'Keep it clear'.

EYR was never about creating hundreds of radio 'presenters' but about enabling young people to research, produce, present and perform their own material in association with community partners for a family audience. From this they learn and develop a whole range of skills that they will find helpful in future life. We hope that you enjoy listening to their work.

Spotlight on:

ANSWER BACK! & MEET THE MEDIA

Answer Back! (Wednesday 14th November @ 6pm, sponsored by Eastbourne College) enables students to ask questions – and get answers on the issues important to them. EYR coincides with Anti-Bullying Week, UK Parliament Week and Global Entrepreneurship Week, so expect a wide range of topics for animated discussion by the panel.

On the panel: Stephen Lloyd, MP for Eastbourne and Willingdon; Caroline Ansell, Conservative Parliamentary candidate; Tom Lawson, Headmaster at Eastbourne College; Cllr Alan Shuttleworth; Christina Ewbank, CEO at Chamber of Commerce and Olivia Godden, Student President at East Sussex College-Eastbourne.

Answer Back! was pre-recorded on Friday 9th November at The Eastbourne Academy with an audience of students from local schools and colleges.

Meet the Media (Thursday 15th November @ 12pm, sponsored by East Sussex College – Eastbourne) introduces the student audience to media professionals and lets them explore the many different aspects of the industry from broadcast journalism, to websites, PR, advertising and print. The face of the media has changed so much in recent years. What do the panel members think about journalism in 2018? What will jobs look like in the future? How has the internet and growth of social media transformed reporting? Why is radio still so important? Expect these questions and more!

See page 8 for panel details.

Please note: The Answer Back! and Meet the Media panels are correct at the time of going to press and may be subject to change.

NHS CARE AND SUPPORT FOR THOSE WITH MENTAL HEALTH

NHS Health Education England is working with Sussex Partnership NHS Foundation Trust to raise awareness of mental health services. The Trust provides specialist care and treatment for children, young people and adults with conditions such as psychosis, depression, anxiety, dementia and personality disorder.

Specialist learning disability services provide community and in-patient care for people with complex health needs. The Trust also provides care in people's homes, in specialist clinics, hospitals, GP surgeries and prisons. There are nearly 5,000 staff including: 1,250 nurses, 635 allied health professionals (including psychologists and therapists) and 250 doctors.

Last year, local nurses featured in a national recruitment campaign encouraging more young people to pick mental health nursing as a career. You can see their video at www.sussexpartnership.nhs.uk/nursing. The Trust also runs a 2-year Nursing Associate Apprenticeship programme with the University of Brighton.

HOW EVERYONE CAN HELP FIGHT THE UNFLUSHABLES!

Last year, Southern Water removed 4,200 skips of unflushable items like wipes, sanitary items and cotton buds from wastewater sites across our region.

These items combine with any leftover cooking oil, fat and grease poured down kitchen sinks to create blockages in sewers – which usually results in sewage backing up and coming out into your home.

But you can join Southern Water and the Consumer Council for Water in fighting 'The Unflushables' and help stop it happening to you. Simply pop all unflushable items in the bin and cool leftover cooking fat, oil and grease, pour it into a container and throw it in the bin. For more info, visit: www.southernwater.co.uk/the-unflushables.

JOHN YOUNG'S NEWSROOM BOOTCAMP

The Newsroom Bootcamp is one of EYR's popular supporting events. John Young (local TV newsreader and journalist) talked about what makes the news – new, novel, serious, significant, weird, wonderful, extraordinary and then story values. Students had to prepare (and then read) news headlines and react to breaking news items and changing priorities. Working to tight deadlines against the clock was paramount. Following this experience, the students used studio autocue equipment to read, film and then watch back their news headlines. Students from The Haven, Stone Cross, The Causeway, Polegate and Tollgate schools attended 90-minute workshop sessions.

EYR SHOW STORIES 2018

Year 4 pupils at Bede's Prep School have been learning about the alarming issue of plastic pollution in our oceans. The children were shocked to learn that 8 million tonnes of plastic enters the sea each year!

The pupil made striking posters detailing the damage that plastics are causing to our wildlife. Max tells us to: "AVOID PLASTIC! REUSE PLASTIC! RECYCLE PLASTIC!"

The children put their words into action and conducted a thorough beach clean along the stretch of coastline just minutes from the School. They were astounded by the amount of plastic recovered but extremely pleased with their efforts. One pupil said "I wouldn't have believed on just three beaches that there would be so much plastic!" Another warns that "if we carry on – eventually all our marine life will be wiped out!"

The pupils are now composing a letter to Prime Minister, Theresa May, to push for action.

Pupils from the Haven School had a great time at The Observatory Science Centre in Herstmonceux in the lead up to EYR. It was amazing trying out all of the activities; making balls roll up hill, creating mini tsunamis, looking at the sky through the giant domes and listening to Natasha talk about the history and uses of the Centre. Natasha also talked about Operation Earth and the importance of everyone looking after the environment and recycling. The Science Centre is encouraging visitors to use paper straws, compostable cups and stirrers which can be recycled. The whole experience was fantastic and extremely enjoyable.

Two of the largest FE colleges in East Sussex have come together to create a new educational powerhouse:

A NEW COLLEGE TAKES FLIGHT

Sussex Coast College Hastings and Sussex Downs College, which has campuses in Eastbourne, Lewes, and Newhaven, have joined forces to form East Sussex College. The newly named college group will provide excellent lifelong learning opportunities for students of all ages, within their local communities.

This merger is one of the most exciting developments within the local educational landscape in recent years, and will see the two colleges come together to offer the highest quality provision of education and skills in the county.

The group's vision is ambitious, and it will continue to improve and invest in the campuses to create inspiring, industry standard facilities. This will allow the college to play a significant part in generating economic growth, supporting business start-ups and entrepreneurial skills, and supporting workforce planning and up-skilling.

Clive Cooke, CEO of East Sussex College said, "This is a really exciting time for the new college group. We aim to be a catalyst for change through the positive power of education and skills training. We are ambitious. We encourage innovative thinking and action to meet the learning and skills needs of the county. We are determined that each of our colleges will become a beacon of excellence in their local areas.

"We are passionate about promoting equality of opportunity for all and celebrating diversity, and we will cherish the uniqueness of each college so this matches the wide range of communities that we serve."

Year 11 students together with their parents and carers have recently had the opportunity to visit each of the campuses and speak to both tutors and current students, to discover for themselves, why East Sussex College is an inspiring and rewarding place to study.

MEDIA STUDENTS TALK POLITICS

Three students studying Creative Media Production & Technology at East Sussex College Eastbourne visited the House of Commons to record an interview with British Labour Party Politician Lord Hain for Eastbourne Youth Radio. The interview will make up part of the students' political documentary, 'Rise of the Radical Right' to be broadcast on EYR at 8pm on 14th November.

"It was so interesting to interview Lord Hain and get an insight into his political concerns regarding young people and the ongoing rise in support for far right politics," says Erin Bacon.

"It was enlightening to hear what Lord Hain had to say," said Jade Meridith-Sullivan. Isaac Shelton, adds, "I hope people will tune in to listen to our documentary on EYR and hear for themselves what Lord Hain has to say."
